

Mobile Phones for Children

There is a new product in the stores for kids. It is the Firefly phone. It looks like a toy but can make and receive real calls. It is child's play to use. It has just five buttons and comes in many bright colors. The makers say children from as young as three years old can use the Firefly. It can make a direct call to a parent. This may be useful if a child is in trouble and is in a hurry to speak to mom or dad.
