

Lesson 35

My Parents

My parents love me a lot. Whenever I am sick, they take care of me. Whenever I am sad, they try to cheer me up. They want me to look good, study hard, and become successful. I guess that is why they nag me about taking a shower and doing my homework. They want to make sure that I learn a lot and get good grades, and they want other people to like me. But I already know how important these things are, so I wish they would stop scolding me about them.

Comprehension Questions

1. How does he know his parents care about him?
2. What do his parents do when he is sad?
3. Why do his parents feel they have to push him?

More Questions

4. Do your parents nag you about doing your homework?
5. Do your parents take you out on weekends?
6. How often does your family eat out?
7. Do your parents buy whatever you want?
8. Does your family love you? How do you know?